Tax Relief For County Residents Gets Assembly Vote

Henry Boney

Grey Shadow Looms From Partisan Battle

by Jack Pollard

A bill that will provide property tax relief to County residents passed through the State Assembly last week on a healthy bipartisan vote of 67-6. It now moves into the State Senate.

Even though the bill — AB 149 was passed, it underwent two amendments on the Assembly floor that have fired the tempers of the County Supervisors Association of California.

Chairman of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors, Henry Boney, said that the Ways and Means Committee overpowered the Associations' will when the Committee chucked in two amendments that throw a grey shadow over the possible tax relief.

Boney pointed out that the from the voters. Boney said that ACA-11 should not be tied on to tax legislation.

Boney said, "Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh is attempting to kill the bill. It is a shame that we have gotten into a partisan issue between the Governor and Unruh."

He continued, "When the tax relief bill reaches the senate, Senator George Miller, chairman of the Finance and Revenue will kill AB-149 because he is not a friend of Unruh's."

The measure still repeals the household furnishings and personal effects taxes.

If passed, the biggest change in the tax structure would come from a total amount set aside from State sales taxes to be earmarked for county property tax relief.

Tax Reduction

The sales taxes to be used would be raised from $155 million to $172 million (an 11.1% increase that produces an average county tax rate reduction of 38¢ rather than 3¢ per $100 of assessed valuation).

An additional $18 million would be provided to double the amount of property tax relief provided last year to elderly homeowners with low incomes.

Assembly Speaker Unruh announced his intention to seek general tax reform legislation in 1969, and he wants tax moneys in AB-149 to be available as a part of tax reform measures.

If approved, it would give the legislature authority to pass laws which would reduce the property tax burden of the homeowners at the expense of business and income property.

William R. MacDougall, general counsel and manager of the County Supervisors Association of California said that, "Even as an urgency measure requiring a two-thirds majority, the bill had votes to spare. And the votes were provided by members of both parties."

The property tax relief features of the bill have been strengthened by the general increase benefiting all property owners by more than 11% over what the original bill did.

Probation

The general counselor and manager said that "We are being put on 'probation' by the Legislature so that the lawmakers can see if county supervisors will do a good job of passing property tax relief funds on to the people."

This may be all right but one year is not a sufficient probationary period.

He said that a look at major federal and state programs of the recent past shows that no truly significant change can be evaluated after only a year.

MacDougall said that the property tax relief features of AB 149 should be operative for a minimum of at least three years.

"Also, there is no reason why the bill should be tied to another... namely ACA 11. Counties are in a serious time bid. Sales tax revenues to be used for property tax relief will simply disappear by a reversal of the sales tax to 4 1/2% on July 1, unless the bill is operative."

The bill will not be operative unless ACA 11 has been approved by the Legislature before July 1. He said, "The Legislature might find good reasons why ACA 11 should not be passed."

It is unjust and unfair to the cause of tax relief that a bill which has received legislative backing should be nullified by the defeat of another bill.

Now the bill goes to the Senate. It faces three formal tests there — two committee votes and a floor vote. But when we began the battle for property tax relief through AB 149, no one could imagine the day when the Assembly would approve it by such an overwhelming bipartisan vote.

So we are cautiously optimistic about what will happen in the Senate. We have seen how effective is the case for property tax relief; we have seen how it can change the minds of legislators who were previously uninterested or even unsympathetic, and we are eager to present our case — the counties' case, the "people's case" — to the Senate."

L.G. Teen Dance Hall License Again Turned Down By Supervisors Board

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The rejection of a teenage dance license for the old post office building in Lemon Grove by the sheriff's department was upheld on Monday by the county board of supervisors.

The applicant was Lee Graeber for the Pacesetter Club No. 2 at 7951 Broadway. His application had been rejected previously by the board without testimony when Graeber failed to appear.

Frank Armstrong, a Lemon Grove attorney mustered several speakers in opposition who backed the report of Deputy Sheriff Warren Kanagy who said the building is not large enough to hold the patrons of a successful dance.

He also said that there is not enough parking for the patronage. He said that the trouble comes when teenagers get to a dance and find they cannot get in because the building is already at capacity.

Then, he reported, they are apt to start showing off on the outside.

The board was reminded of the ugly incident that occurred at the Fayton Building about three years ago at which four deputies were hurt.

Kanagy said Graeber runs a similar operation in Solana Beach that has not become a problem because there is sufficient space in the building and parking area.

Graeber has also run the Roaring Twenties in El Cajon, but has had some trouble at the Hi-Ho club in El Cajon, Kanagy reported.

Bearded, long-haired but well-groomed Tom Pignaterra, an entertainer and manager of the Solana Beach club, asked that the board at least give the operation a trial with a temporary permit. Supervisor Robert Cozens was willing to do this, but the other board members were not.

Those who were present to protest the license included Rev. Orville Butcher, pastor of the Skyline Wesleyan Methodist church who also represents the Homeland Pastor's Assn.; Sam Solleder, assistant superintendent of the Lemon Grove School District; Richard McGarvey, Dean of Students, Mt. Miguel high school; Frank Du Fon, Juvenile Protection chairman, Mt. Miguel PTA; Louis Warren, representing the L.G. Chamber of Commerce; Lillian Collette, Florence Casteau, Meyer Zung, a L.G. businessman, and Armstrong.

Chairman Henry A. Boney cut off the long discussion without allowing all of the proponents a chance to speak. He had asked, however, if there were any more to speak in favor.

There was a group of young men in the audience who apparently might have wanted to speak, but their unfamiliarity with board meetings seemed to cost them their courage, although there was not much more that could have been added.

Graeber claimed there was sufficient parking, and Kanagy agreed that there was sufficient parking but only if the dances did not draw big crowds.

The deputy said the former operation resulted in some merchants having to actually shut down to prevent shoplifting and other incidents.

The yearly pageant will be open to the public and no charge will be made for those wanting to view the colorful parade of beauties.

Representing Lemon Grove is Christine Collier, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Collier, 7811 Palm st. She is a junior at Mt. Miguel High

The 5-5" title holder has brown eyes and brown hair. She weighs 110 pounds and won her title in Spring Valley on April 24.

Judging is expected to run for four hours. The winner of the beauty contest will emerge as the 1968 Fairest of the Fair. The title will bring $2,000 in cash and other prizes along with the right to reign over the Southern California Exposition, June 26-July 7.

Actual competition will get underway at 3 p.m. when the Fairest contestants parade before the judges in swim suits. They will again appear in swim suits in the evening pageant.

Dent-Scheidle Run-off Slated

Supervisor Robert C. Dent edged out challenger Harry Scheidle in the Third District supervisorial race by defeating him with a 40,063 vote to Scheidle's 31,730 tally.

Art Akers, the third candidate running against Dent, polled 9,323 votes. It had been expected that the Akers' contingent will send the supervisorial race into the November elections with Dent and Scheidle facing each other.

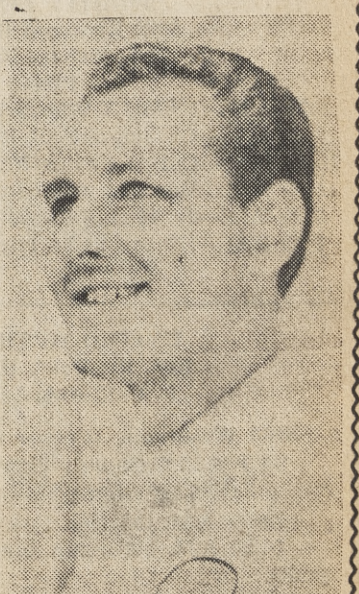

In other voting action in the supervisorial race Henry Boney was reelected to head up the Board of Supervisors with a total 55,774. He ran uncontested.

The DIMMER VIEW

The Tragedy of Robert Kennedy

Out of the tragedy of the shooting of Sen. Robert Kennedy must certainly come some reforms.

The nation has been crying out for a cessation of the growing disregard for law, order and morality.

The old men of the Supreme Court who have squinted balefully at the laws we have on our books, and said that they are too severe for a free people, must take part of the blame for the tragedy.

The nation is ready, we believe, for a stiffening of the American respect-for-law concept.

In California, voters upset the career of Senator Thomas Kuchel to elect Dr. Max Rafferty because of his strong anti-crime position. The results of this race is adequate indication that Joe and Jane Jones are tired of hippies, marijuana smoking youngsters, lawbreakers, looters, college rioters and anti-Americanism.

Rafferty vows to help bring changes in the legal philosophy which condones all these things.

It is extremely sad that a young, promising life had to be laid in the balance to punctuate these ills.

It is sadder still that law-abiding Americans have tolerated conditions by which lawlessness long ago became the right and privilege of many.

Clearly, the moment of truth is here for adherents to the idea of law and order. Now we must turn the same energy to putting down crime as bleeding hearts have used to make immorality and criminality accepted under the law.

We need no new laws. All we need are strong leaders who will bravely enforce the laws we now have.

Let's Help the 'Soft-Core', Too

One of the small but effective State programs has been dropped at Grossmont High School District.

It is the Youth Placement Service, formerly operated at Grossmont with State Department of Employment personnel.

As it is with some other Big Brother programs, this one was started and worked well, but dropped almost capriciously. The program was not a big one. Nor was it expensive.

Approximately 100 jobs a month were filled by the department which had a single employee.

The Department of Employment pulled in the Grossmont employee to serve at the Youth Opportunity Center downtown "to better serve the hard-core unemployed youth."

We get a little tired of doing for the "hard-core." Try as we may, we can think of no great improvement in our society as a result of the millions we have squandered on the "hard-core." Looting and rioting has not ended. Marchers still carry on, and the unemployed hard-core remains at only a slightly changed level.

Here, in a single project, is a good illustration of the administration's over-compensation. They've cut off a thousand jobs from good youngsters who are not drop-outs — but kids who keep their noses to the study grind-stone while asking the Youth Placement department to find part-time jobs for them.

Now, if many of them find work, it will be because they must take time that might be devoted to study to stalk business firms — an extremely inefficient way of jobseeking.

We're not suggesting that these youngsters will become drop-outs if they can't find work. They have shown their determination by trying to earn money while continuing to keep up their grades. Without this aid, we are putting one more obstacle in the way of good students.

With the high unemployment insurance rate employers pay, they are entitled to the employment service.

For the first-time contact some youngsters will get with business firms, the service is not only useful but vital.

It is shameful that the State has decided that it will give employment help to high school students only if they become "hard-core" by dropping out or become educationally incompetent.

'Come As You Are' Service Scheduled At Lutheran Church

A "Come As You Are" Worship Service, an earlier hour, and an adult "Sermon Talk-Back" are special features of the new summer worship sche-minary of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Pastor of the church, Rev. Robert E. Kleinschmidt, is attending the Southern Baptist Convention in Houston, Texas.

The new schedule lists the worship service at 8:30 a.m. and the Sunday School hour at 9:15 a.m. Pastor of the congregation, Rev. R. D. Thoreson, explained that the "Come As You Are" title means worshippers should feel free to come in the casual summer clothes during the summer months.

"If a family is planning on a trip to the mountains or a picnic, we want them to be able to first worship the God who made it all and then go out and enjoy it as His people", he explained.

Concerning the casual clothing, Pastor Thoreson added "We ask only that the casual clothing not be distracting to the worship service."

Following the worship service, during the Sunday School hour which begins at 9:15 a.m., adults are invited to meet on the patio for an informal coffee hour and "Sermon Talk-Back" for questions and discussion of the pastor's sermon.

Pastor Thoreson noted that the type of schedule being used this summer at Lord of Life Lutheran Church is called the Family Worship Plan. The emphasis of the plan is that the entire family have the experience of both Christian worship and Christian education.

The new schedule was begun June 2 and will continue through the summer months of June, July, and August. The response to this plan has been very good, according to the pastor.

"Of the adults, over 90% were involved in Christian education either by attending the "Sermon Talk-Back" or by teaching a Sunday School class", he said.

The midweek service was led by Melvin Chancey, chairman of the board of deacons. Youth members of the church who are graduates of college, high school or junior high school (totaling 28) will be honored June 9 at the evening service.

Each one will be presented a gift. This will be the annual Graduates Reception of CDO Baptist Church, and held in the Social Room of the church.

The youth sponsors and church hostess will be in charge.

The "Choralaries," a seven-voice singing group from the Western Bible Institute of Denver, Colo., will be at the church, the evening of June 10, to present an evening of song and testimony.

The program begins at 7:30 p.m., and all are welcome, says Rev. Anderson.

San Diego County Council Of Churches To Meet June 10

The 23rd Annual General Assembly of the San Diego County Council of Churches will be held at 6:30 p.m. on June 10, at the Scottish Rite Rite Temple in Mission Valley. This will be a dinner meeting at which delegates from the member Churches will hear reports and pass the necessary legislation for continuing the Council of Churches for next year.

The San Diego County Council of Churches is made up of over one hundred and sixty individual congregations from nineteen religious denominations. It is governed by the General Assembly through a Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors is composed of the Officers of the Council, the Denominational Representatives and thirty members elected at large for three year periods, with a new class elected each year.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Carpenter, 82, of 2845 Massachusetts ave., Lemon Grove, were held June 3 at Greenwood Mortuary, with interment in Greenwood Memorial Park. She died May 30 at her home.

A native of Minnesota, Mrs. Carpenter had lived in Lemon Grove 75 years, coming there in 1895 with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. August Fels.

The Fels' settled on Massachusetts ave. on a ten-acre piece of land, near San Miguel ave. The old family home still stands. Mr. and Mrs. Fels were aggressive, and soon began acquiring more land. In a few years their holdings took in most of the southwest portion of Lemon Grove.

During these early years Anna Fels went to the old Lemon Grove School, which was located near the railroad tracks in (what is now) the center of town. Later she married and became the mother of two sons.

During World War I the Fels' family was busy on the ranch with the curing and selling of the many olives that grew there; with their lemons and other fruits. They also raised beans and potatoes and butchered and cured their own pork.

As members of the old Lemon Grove Irrigation District, the Fels could see a future of Lemon Grove, and began selling off some of their land. After the death of the old folks, Mrs. Carpenter retained the house and nearly two acres of land, which was kept up by a hired hand.

Mrs. Carpenter is survived by a son, William Thiele of San Diego; a sister, Mrs. Lena Krone of San Diego, and one grandson.

Monte Vista Homemaking Teacher Retires After 30 Years Service

By Laura White

After 30 years of teaching, 23 of which were spent in the Grossmont District, Mrs. Evelyn Schmidt, homemaking teacher at Monte Vista, will retire at the end of the 1967-68 school year.

Mrs. Schmidt, who has been at Monte Vista all seven years of the school's existence, commented, "I moved in with the furniture." She has attended Ohio State University, San Diego State College, and University of California extension.

Mrs. Schmidt believes that every girl should be prepared for a dual career of housewife and another profession such as teaching in case circumstances leave her to support a family.

Of the younger generation she says that kids need "permissiveness within reasonable limits, with guidance and direction."

She feels that the widening generation gap is due to changing principles in the home.

Other than homemaking, Mrs. Schmidt has taught biology, general science, math and English. She said that she enjoyed teaching biology most of all, but also liked English and homemaking very much.

She added that she enjoyed homemaking at Monte Vista especially because the girls had such "cheerful, friendly, respectful attitudes."

She also said that homemaking was a harder subject to teach than something like English, but that it had many more personal rewards.

Mrs. Schmidt explained that her most difficult teaching assignment came when she had a science class composed of a school's football team.

The high point of her career, she feels, was coming to Monte Vista. She was excited about working with new people in a new school. Of the office workers, custodians and faculty she said, "Every group works together with respect for the other person's job."

She added, "I leave with mixed emotions. I hate to leave such wonderful people, but I look forward to spending time with my husband who is also retiring soon."

She also has a married son and three grandchildren. Two of the grandchildren are attending nursery school.

Mrs. Schmidt and her husband reside in a mobile home which they will take to Palm Springs next winter. Other than that, she intends to remain in the San Diego area and possibly substitute at Monte Vista.

Van Says Budget Cuts To Hurt Local Economy

WASHINGTON — A crucial vote in Congress next week could eventually cut many popular federal programs in San Diego County, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, said.

A $6 billion spending slash has been attached to a bill raising income taxes. It is expected to be approved by a comfortable margin when taken up in the House on Wednesday.

Van Deerlin said his own vote on the tax bill is still undecided, explaining: "Like most congressmen, I concede the need for steps to ward off inflation and protect the dollar. But I question the wisdom of drastically cutting social programs in these tense times."

"Its strongest supporters admit that the proposed 10 percent tax surcharge will bring a slight rise in unemployment. And I deplore the President's failure to propose any meaningful steps for plugging the scandalous tax loopholes that have continued year after year."

Van Deerlin, who last week joined an unsuccessful floor fight to limit spending cuts to four billion dollars, predicted that the stiffer reductions now in sight will dig deep into San Diego's economy.

The county now receives an International Club winner of Lionel Van Deerlin's 2 Weeks in Washington Contest and has been active in other school programs.

He plans to attend Harvard University where he will major in modern foreign languages.

more than 1.6 billion a year in federal allocations — much of it earmarked for defense and pension obligations which would remain safe under the pending legislation.

"But several hundred million dollars for programs such as impact aid and the supersonic transport — could and in all likelihood would be drastically reduced," Van Deerlin said.

He noted that 41 school districts in the county are entitled to impact area aid to help them make up revenue losses caused by the presence of tax-exempt Government installations. More of this aid — some $13 million a year — is channeled into San Diego County than into any other area of the country.

"Economics already in effect are going to reduce actual impact aid payments to about 70 percent of entitlements, and the additional slash of $6 billion could well wipe out the program altogether," Van Deerlin said.

The supersonic transport (SST) program would be "an almost certain casualty" of the $6 billion reduction, he said. The Rohr Corp., of Chula Vista, has been designated to build the engine pods for the giant aircraft under a subcontract that could eventually be worth $500 million.

Dr. Warburton Feted by 500

More than 500 people feted Dr. John Thomas Warburton last week when teachers, administrators and non-school connected persons of the Grossmont High School District made him the object of many quips and a couple of awards at the Scottish Rite Masonic Temple.

Dr. Warburton, who is retiring from his post as superintendent of the high school district, heard Assemblyman Pete Wilson read a resolution that had been passed by the Assembly commending Dr. Warburton for his positive contribution to education. Wilson remarked that such a resolution is refreshing at a time when some school districts require legislature help to get them out of trouble.

A gift certificate for clothing "will make him one of the best dressed professors at State College" said Stanley McClintic, chairman of the event. Dr. Warburton served the district 21 years. He served as superintendent 4 years.

Boney Wants Spending Cut $4 Million

Chairman of the Board of Supervisors Henry Boney urged that $4 million be cut from the County budget for 1968-69.

He suggested, to his fellow supervisors, that such things as a new runway for Gillespie Field, air conditioning for the County Administration Center, convention travel for county employees, and renovation of various county facilities be dropped. He also suggested a freeze on appropriations to various civic and cultural organizations.

He pointed out, in a letter to the Board, that it had less than 5 per cent control over the annual County budget. The remainder must measure up to State, Federal, and County Charter requirements.

Boney's list included 22 items totaling $3,761,211.

At the Monday meeting Supervisor De Graff Austin remarked drily "Well, now that Mr. Boney has given us the word on budget cuts, I suppose we might as well cancel our budget sessions."

Then he turned to Boney and said grimly, "You know my teenage niece has been referring to you as the poor man's Big Daddy (Jesse Unruh)." Even Boney laughed at this.

Supervisor Gibson said he had some budget cut ideas of his own and said bittily, "As long as we are going to wreck it, let's wreck it good."

Supervisor Dent had already predicted that there will be no increase in property tax this year.

★ Here's $1,160,000 for the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District ★

THE electorate of La Mesa-Spring Valley School District authorized the issuance of bonds to finance various school improvements. Bank of America purchased these bonds to provide your community with the money it needs to finance these improvements.

Interest rates on the bonds were decided by competitive bidding — a procedure required by law to obtain the lowest average interest rate for the taxpayer under current bond market conditions. Interest rates also reflect the credit rating of your district.

We, at Bank of America, bid on virtually all municipal bonds issued in the State — because we have confidence in the future of California and districts like yours.

One thing that gives us confidence is that you and your neighbors wisely recognize the demonstrated truth: good schools benefit all citizens. The quality of a community parallels the quality of its schools. This is reflected in property values through the years.

"We will change the name to Tahiti Hut, offer piano entertainment, serve food, and cater to family clientele," he said.

The cafe will be closed for two weeks starting mid-month during which time remodeling will take place.

Police have regarded Coral Inn as one of the major trouble spots in the East County. Patrons who frequented the place were recently charged with being implicated in a shooting incident and a kidnap complaint.

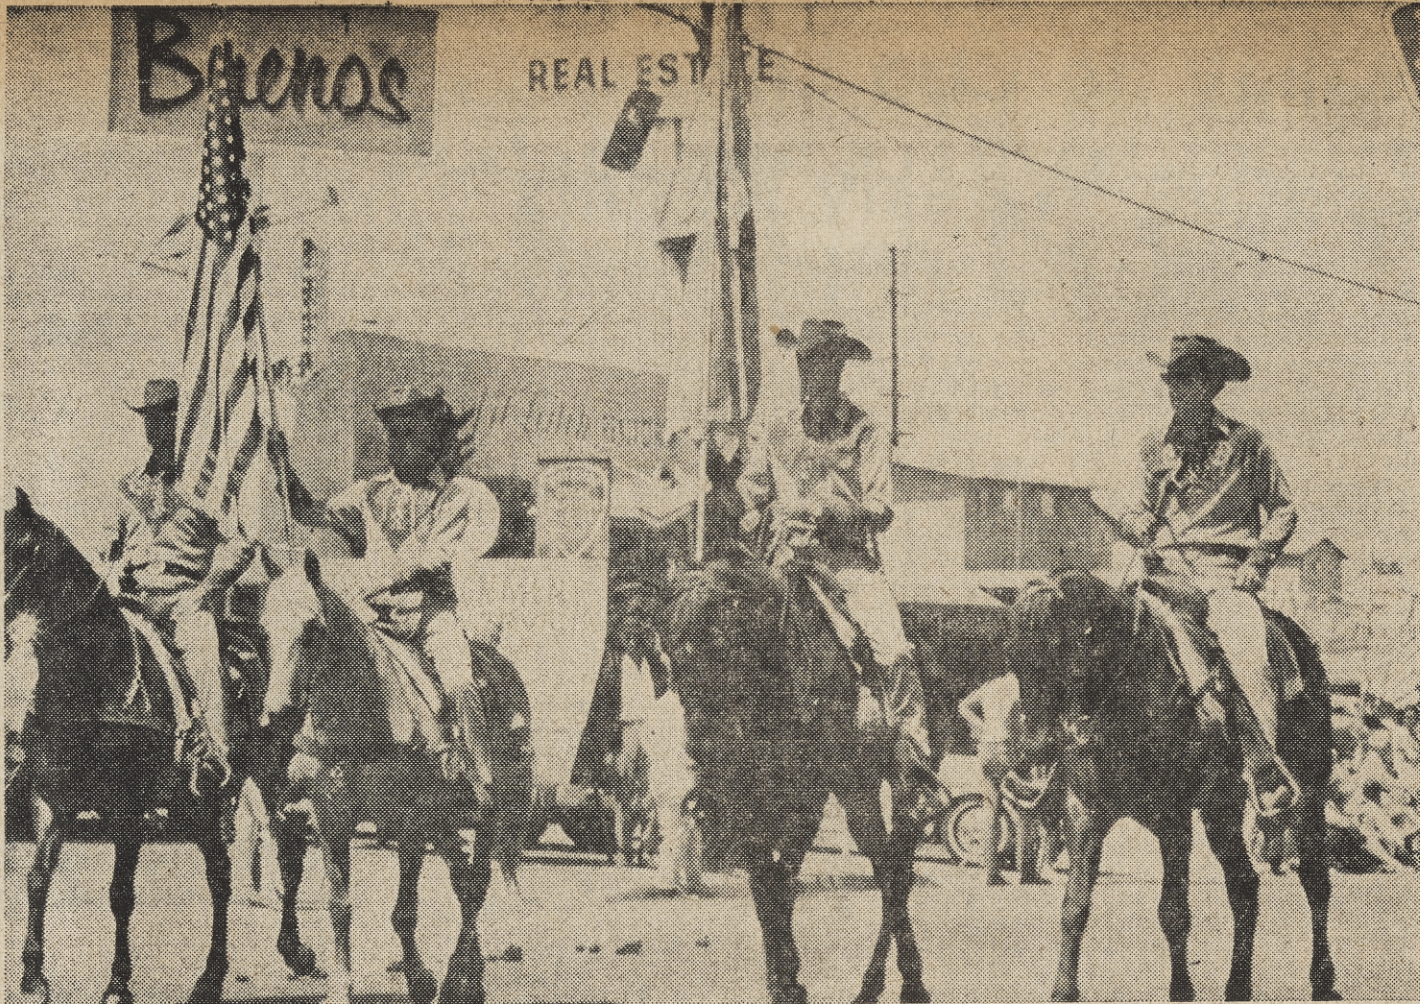

The gun user forfeited bail and the kidnap trial is due for hearing this month.

Tournament Of Roses Set For Spring Valley

The Spring Valley Kiwanis Club's new project, a rose sale, or "Tournament of Roses," as it has been named, is gaining momentum.

At a recent meeting of the club, member Frank Rose was named honorary chairman of the committee, "buy virtue of his name," as president Bob Divine put it.

Also there are to be two teams vying for honors of selling the most roses; either red or pink roses, which are grown in Spring Valley hot-houses.

Team leaders are Bob Divine and Vernie Watts. Sale dates will be June 22 and 29, and the flowers will be delivered to most any place in the county.

Miniature roses will sell for (donation) $3.50 per dozen or $6 for two dozen; and long-stemmers will sell for $4 per dozen or $7 for two dozen.

Guest speaker at the May 22 meeting, was J. M. Damberger, District Design Engineer for the Calif. Highway Department. A resident of Lemon Grove, he was introduced by Paul Yee, program chairman.

Damberger told of the many miles of highways now under construction in California and the great number of miles being planned for future traffic. When asked about the extension of 94 freeway, he said plans are to make the extension from Kenora dr., Avocado blvd, sometime in the fall of this year, if funds are available.

He said already private property has been purchased by the state for the right of ways. It was noted that at Campo rd. and Calavo, the former businesses there have vacated.

Damberger pointed out that there are more vehicles rolling on the streets of this state than in most nations of the world and there will be millions more in California's expanding future.

He said approximately 1,500, 000 Californians are employed in jobs and professions related to motor vehicles, highways and streets. He said over 50,000 California retail and wholesale businesses are completely devoted to serving highway transportation.

Damberger pointed out that in the days of the Model "T" cars, that Los Angeles was the tenth largest city in the nation. Now it is the third largest, with the largest metropolitan area.

One thing about selling your property to the State, Damberger said, it is a "cash deal." You get your money right away. He said that even residential properties, fronting freeways, increase in value faster than comparable properties away from freeways.

He said Urban freeways should be integrated with the city, not simply be corridors through it. They should pass through buildings, have shops, restaurants and parking garages integrated into their structures. Freeways should be built as part of a total community development, not unilaterally.

S.V. Fire Dept. Notes

Some sort of a record was set in Spring Valley, during the month of May, reports the Spring Valley Fire Department. And the record was nothing of which we should be proud.

The S.V. Fire Department answered 67 calls, grass fires and structural fires. AND, the Department reports, most of the fires were set by children playing with matches.

Many of the children were four years old and up. In a couple of instances property damage was involved.

The S. V. Fire Department warns that parents are responsible for any damage caused by children, under California laws. It is a good idea and most urgent, that matches and other means of starting fires, be kept out of the reach of youngsters, the department warns. Fires not only can damage property, but can cause the loss of life as well.

Fire Calls Last Week:

May 29. There were two fire calls: a small grass fire at Kempton St. and San Francisco St., with no damage and the cause undetermined; and at 1015 Brucker, a small area, caused by children and matches.

June 1. There were two grass fires: 3358 Par dr., Brookside, with no damage and undetermined cause; and a small area north of Thayer St., and the cause undetermined.

June 2. There were three grass fires: three acres burned near the 9200 block Brookside cir., caused by children and matches; a half acre burned in the 8900 block Jamacha rd., caused by a lighted cigarette; and a small area burned in the 1300 block Helix st.

Ambulance runs:

May 29: Dennis Patterson, 18, of 1606 Highridge rd., Spring Valley, was taken from the Monte Vista High School parking lot to Grossmont Hospital, due to a automobile accident at the lot. He sustained a broken left leg, it was reported.

June 1: Mrs. Alberta Ames, 58, of 3173 Bancroft rd., Space 9, was dead on arrival of the ambulance.

June 2: Allie B. Cick, 69, of 9902 Jamacha blvd., Space 119, was taken to Navy Hospital, due to illness. Also Marceola Rebells, 58, of 1311 Presioca, taken to Grossmont Hospital, due to a possible heart attack.

Dear Editor:

We thought it was a good idea to send you this letter because we count on your help and on the cooperation of your newspaper to reach your readers with our Brazilian message of friendship.

We, the INTERNATIONAL FRIENDS, are hundreds of Brazilian people of both sexes, of all ages and professions, who have created an International Correspondence Club some months ago. Through correspondence with foreign friends, we intend to exchange ideas and knowledge, to promote better understanding among people from different countries to obtain more stamps and viewcards for our collections, to exchange newspapers and magazines, to be better informed about other countries and to help foreign people know our country better.

We started our activities by sending a letter like this one to the most important newspapers in South America. In a few weeks, we received more than 17,000 letters from every single country in this Hemisphere, from Mexico to Argentina.

However, most of our members would like to have friends in other continents. From Haiti, Bolivia, Panama, Mexico, Venezuela, Colombia, Peru, Chile, Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina — just to name the countries where we have more than a thousands members — we receive frequent requests of names and addresses of American penfriends.

This is, so, the aim of this letter. On behalf of our members, we beg you the very special favor of printing our invitation to your readers who have an interest in communicating themselves with our members in Latin America.

Your interested readers may send to us their name and complete address, sex, occupation, languages that they can read and write well, and their preferred hobbies. They can write in English, French, Italian, Portuguese or Spanish — since we can deal easily with these languages. As soon as we receive their names and addresses, we will distribute them to our members who eagerly want penfriends in the United States.

Their letters must be sent to Amigos Internacionais, Caixa Postal 30837, Sao Paulo, Brazil.

We now want to anticipate many thanks to you for the help you will provide to us.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

What is the meaning of the word "sorpresa"? This is a delightful word which means "surprise." It is pronounced "sohr-PREH-sah." A common expression using this word is "Que sorpresa!" for "What a surprise!"

How does one say "congratulations"? There are two ways to say this in Spanish. The first way is "congratulations!" this is pronounced "k o n g r a t u l o o h s e e O H N n e h s." The second way is more popular and more frequently used. It is "felicidades!" which is pronounced "feh-lee-see-DAH-dehs."

An expression using this last word could be "Muchas felicidades!" which means "Many congratulations!" or "Mil felicidades!" for "A thousand congratulations!"

There are many occasions for using these expressions. They may be used on a "cumplianes" (birthday), "aniversario" (anniversary) or a "boda" (wedding). They may also be used with friends who are graduating from high school or college. What ever the occasion, "Muchas felicidades" is a good expression to have on the tip of your tongue.

This week's practice phrases contain some of the above words and expressions. Test yourself and see if you can learn to say them. They are being said on an automatic record when you dial 276-2762 or your telephone. The recorded voice pauses for you to say the same words.

IMPORTANT PHRASES
